Want a communication event that's memorable, exciting and stress-free?

Call Unique Solutions

You want to communicate important messages to many people. You have lots of ideas, but need an experience which will connect those messages with the audience, their working lives and your corporate objectives – and be engaging, memorable and exciting.

Unique Solutions listen, define objectives and demonstrate how they fit in with your organisation's strategic needs. Clients are always surprised by this; but it's what our reputation is based on and it's why our events work, time after time.

Your audience will be:

- In the right environment to take part
- 100% focused on your key messages
- Engaged using learning styles which suit them all
- Surprised and excited – and having fun

Your organisation will:

- Never have to worry about the event – ever
- Have fun in the development, delivery and experience
- Be able to measure the return on investment
- Meet the desired business objectives and outcomes

Unique Solutions events work because we carefully consider and manage every single aspect. Nothing is left to chance.

What we do for you:

- Find the right venue and liaise with them
- Manage the budget
- Design and deliver interactive sessions, as well as unique business simulations and activities
- Design sets and dress rooms
- Integrate company branding
- Profile the audience
- Find and book guest speakers
- Coach and direct the presenters
- Manage the delegate booking
- Provide audio visual equipment
- Design and produce videos and audio visual effects
- Project-manage the evaluation process

Crookes say: "Our heads were full of ideas and issues we wanted to tackle at the event. Unique Solutions listened, observed, questioned and guided us through a day which delivered everything we needed and more. The feedback was excellent."

Helen Mullins - HR Manager

Budgens say: "Unique Solutions really helped bring our two businesses together and the event was a major catalyst to the integration. It was a springboard to long lasting change that has led to the changes in working that we needed."

Paul Daynes - Head of Training & Development

BP say: "The whole event was a resounding success and there is no doubt that it was all due to the innovation, organisation and support of the Unique Solutions team. They provided an outstanding solution to a difficult and testing challenge. The experience enabled us to hit the ground running."
